Conventions In this book, you will find the following styles of text among the illustrations:

- To improve the readability of the text, paragraphs have been separated by blank lines.
- Short paragraphs are indicated with three blank lines.
- Alert boxes are emphasized with a thicker border and are decorated with '[alert]' in the middle.
- Keyboard input such as clicking on the icons or pressing buttons is shown in the text with the name of the button or icon, or by the action associated with it.
- A numbered or lettered reference appears in the left-hand side margin in a shaded box. The reference may be the name of the chapter, book, or webpage. If the reference is not in a shaded box, it is a reference to another number or lettered heading that appears in the same margin. You can use your browser's search function to find a specific reference quickly.

Tips

Tips for authors - We highly encourage you to test your book with readers. If you choose to use a publication tool such as [**Preview**](be sure to select the option to have your work not appear in the main series of your choice). - It is important to check any technology solutions separately from other parts of your book. Otherwise, you will not be able to test your solutions easily. - You may choose to use the **Introduction**
